

Representative Director, Chairperson and CEO

Yasuhide Mizuno

Yasuhide Mizuno serves as CEO of Sony Honda Mobility, where he leads the company's strategy to usher in a new era of mobility.

Mizuno began his career at Honda Motor Co., Ltd. in 1986, focusing primarily on sales and marketing. In 1995, he embarked on more than two decades of international assignments across Asia, including Thailand, Taiwan, Malaysia, Australia, and China. During his tenure as Chief Officer of Regional Operations (China), he spearheaded the creation of a joint venture dedicated to developing electric vehicles for the Chinese market and advancing connectivity and software technologies. In 2020, Mizuno was appointed Managing Officer at Honda, concurrently serving as Chief Officer of Automobile Operations. In this role, he drove the introduction of electric vehicles and led efforts to revitalize the four-wheel business.
